The Discovery Climb is a new experience that takes you inside the workings of the Sydney Harbour Bridge, within its very heart, for a behind-the-scenes look at this Australian icon. “Sydney’s Natural World” by John Martyn

Donated by STEP Inc

STEP is a community-based environmental organisation of over 400 members from Ku-ring-gai and surrounding suburbs of northern Sydney.

There are no other books that deal with the natural assets of the Greater Sydney region as well or as completely.

STEP believes this publication will become the iconic benchmark by which Sydney's bushland will be assessed in the years ahead.

"This book beautifully depicts these special qualities of Sydney's bushland. It brings an artist's eye to nature, yet a scientific accuracy to details. Its images are by someone who appreciates the bush's ever-changing moods and who loves its forms, colours and resilience. Whether it be the texture of eroded rock, afternoon light through the foliage or the colours of a tiny insect, the beauty of the bush is a constant theme."

Alan Fairley - Naturalist and Environmental Writer
